JPRD HIGHLIGHTS

Morris Dillard started with the Recreation Department in 1983 as a computer instructor. In 1995 Morris started teaching classes in Community Enrichment of Leisure Services offering programs to low income areas. Basic computer classes were offered for many years but then he expanded his program to Digital Media introducing electronics to kids who would not normally have the exposure. These programs enriched their knowledge and drove them to want to learn more. Morris has state of the art material and is loved by the parents and students. Morris goes beyond teaching in Leisure Service, he volunteers as a photographer for the Enrichment programs and always looks for ways to help the community.
Thank you Morris for your service, time and talent!

Bobbie Lewis is a long time instructor and camp director who has worked with the Community Enrichment of Leisure Services offering programs at William Tot lot. Some of the programs offered are Arts & Crafts, Ceramics, Edible Arts and Holiday Camp. Bobbie hopes to give these children opportunities that they normally would not have so that they may strive to exceed in life. ## Programs for people with developmental disabilities

Parks and Recreation offers recreational activities to people with developmental disabilities. The goal is to improve or maintain physical, cognitive, emotional and social functions and promote healthy, independent leisure lifestyles. Year-round programs are offered in classes, events, clubs, and camps. The programs stress choice, involvement and self-direction while offering recreational experiences, new challenges and socializing in a safe environment. To ensure safety and enjoyment of others in recreational programs, participants are expected to display appropriate behavior. The success of all recreation activities depends not only on good planning and instruction, but the conduct of participants. Appropriate behavior includes the ability to follow instructions and interact with others in a socially acceptable manner. Must be mobility capable and able to attend to personal needs.
